The Pastoral Passage:

The promise is given that "if we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." I am glad every day I live that this precious promise has been recorded for us. We may be filled with rejoicing that we have a living Savior who is mighty to save to the uttermost all who come unto God by him. Jesus desires you to ask much that you may receive much, and we need Him with us at every step as we advance. When we see that there are defects in our characters, we must repent and reform; for if we cherish iniquity in our hearts, the Scripture declares that God will not hear us. Christ has given us a n invitation full of mercy. He says, "Come now, and let us reason together, said the Lord; though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." {ST March 10, 1890 }
